

ANNOUNCEMENT

CP Industries, a Pennsylvania-based manufacturer of seamless high-pressure vessels for Industrial Gas, Offshore, Defense and Alternative-fuel storage applications would like to welcome a new sales member to our team.

We are proud to announce that we have recently hired Jeff Polce as a Senior Product Manager for Industrial Gas. Jeff joins us with an extensive product sales and marketing background with Highland Tank where he had 21 years of manufacturing and distribution experience. Jeff is from the local area, Turtle Creek, where he lives with his spouse, Stacy and three children, Stephanie, Jeffrey and Marissa. Jeff is a graduate of Clarion University.

Jeff will be working to align CPI's vast Industrial Gas activities with our customer's needs.

Michael Larsen, President of CPI, commented, "These organizational changes combined with our LEAN effort and new product developments over the last several years will ensure that we maintain our leadership position in our end markets and with the customers that we serve."
