ANGI Energy Systems Announces Next President, Jason Lund

Janesville, WI – August 4, 2015 - ANGI Energy Systems announced today that Jason Lund has joined the organization as President. Lund succeeded John Grimmer, who served as ANGI's CEO since 2005 when the business was privately owned and then transitioned as President once ANGI was acquired by Gilbarco Veeder-Root in June 2014. John's vision, commitment, and leadership over the past 10 years positioned ANGI as a leading global supplier of CNG fueling systems for the NGV industry.

"I am pleased to welcome Jason Lund as ANGI's new President," said Andy Grimmer, General Manager. "We are extremely excited about Jason's appointment as we are certain our organization and our customers will be well-served by Jason's leadership. Jason is fully engaged with the management team here, and is positioning ANGI to continue to improve and grow as the industry leader."

Jason joins ANGI with over 5 years of experience in various commercial leadership roles and more than 10 years of experience at Danaher. Most recently he worked in the Water Quality industry, serving as Business Unit Director for Hach's Environmental Test Systems (ETS) business. Prior to that Jason was at Hach Lange where his focus was in Operations. Also, Jason worked at Videojet Technologies and held the role of Director, Product Decoration & Graphics Businesses after being a Business Manager and Product Manager, serving the Printing and Nonwovens industries.

"I'm excited to be joining the ANGI team and the CNG refueling industry. ANGI is a world class organization that has been the industry's leading provider of vehicle fueling and tube trailer transport solutions for more than two decades," said Lund. "Through ongoing and strengthened partnerships with, and dedication to, ANGI's customers, industry partners and suppliers I am looking forward to accelerating growth across the industry and ensuring ANGI continues to provide best in class offerings to our customers in the years ahead."

Jason holds a Master of Business Administration from Darden Graduate School of Business, University of Virginia and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from Drake University. Jason and his family will be relocating to Janesville in the upcoming weeks.
